

Integrated Sports Training and Health Management Under One Roof

Chicago Sports Institute Press Release

Northfield, IL, March 12, 2014: Chicago Sports Institute fills the gap between performance training and sports medicine with a unique integrative approach to health. Noting a lack of integrated care models in the Midwest, its three co-founders opened Chicago Sports Institute to create a premier facility that effectively combines performance training, sports medicine and integrative health management under one roof. .

Read full article from Chicago Tribune. . .